

Alissa Cameron, DPT

Alissa received her Doctor of Physical Therapy from Pacific University in Hillsboro, OR and graduated with a Bachelor of Science from the University of Portland. After completing her degree, Alissa worked for nearly a decade in outpatient orthopedics in Gresham, OR. Professional areas of interest include running rehab and sports enhancement although she enjoys treating a wide variety of diagnoses and working closely with her patients for them to achieve their goals. She is certified in Sports metrics and is a Graston Provider.

Away from work Alissa enjoys spending time with family, competing in the equestrian sport of 3-day eventing, gardening, hiking and even hunting when time allows.

We relieve pain, restore function and renew hope!