

Marissa Beaudoin, DPT

Marissa received her Doctorate of Physical Therapy at the University of Massachusetts, Lowell. She graduated with her bachelor's degree in Recreational Therapy, and minor in Psychology at Western Carolina University in Cullowhee, North Carolina. Her professional interests also include working with geriatric and orthopedic populations.

Marissa grew up in New Hampshire and traveled to several states before finding her home in Montana. She enjoys any moments that she can spend outdoors; whether it is hiking, fishing, swimming, camping, traveling or just spending time outside running with her dog.

We relieve pain, restore function and renew hope!